Welcome!

The Historical Society of Long Beach and LBCC Community Studies Project presents the Second Long Beach Community Studies Conference! Several years ago our partnership was formed to share research across disciplines and institutions about Long Beach's past and present. The 2010 conference was a great success and we anticipate that today will be just as successful. We have a day full of presentations that delve deeper into the study of Long Beach and its environs.

Today we will learn from independent scholars, students, community researchers, faculty members, archivists and librarians. We encourage your continued dialogue with the HSLB and with other researchers.

Our 2012 theme is Commemorations: Looking Back, Moving Forward. We just opened an exhibition about the Long Beach Day Nursery's 100th Anniversary that follows that theme. We hope that you will spend a few minutes enjoying the show.

We ask that you explore the extensive collections available at Historical Society of Long Beach. What you see in the gallery is only a small representation of the vast collection of materials archived here.

Thank you for participating and contributing to the body of knowledge about Long Beach.
