

Historical Society of Long Beach

New Exhibition Opening July 14th, 2018

Teens cruising in their beloved cars emerged as a fixture of Southern California culture from the 1930s through the 1960s. Fueled by high school youth, a growing number of active local car clubs, drive-in restaurants, theaters, hang outs, and the lure of the iconic Lions Drag Strip, Long Beach became a focal point amidst this cultural movement.

Historical Society of Long Beach is looking for menus and items from drive-in restaurants and theaters.

Contributions and loans are welcome.

Call 562.424.2220 or bring items to 4260 Atlantic Ave.
